

Money Matters!

Whether you're saving for college or keeping up on the grocery bills, financial fitness is key! Here are some great sites to enhance your savings savvy.

Thinking of investing? Try this www.finra.org/Investors/index.htm

And this:

www.saveandinvest.org

Locate great, accurate materials from FINRA—the Financial Regulatory Authority.

Need some banking advice? Try this

www.bankrate.com

Compare rates for checking, savings, CDs and mortgages. Also find bank ratings and calculators to compare borrowing costs.

Want to start saving? Try this

www.mymoney.gov

Great, unbiased advice on the basics of managing, saving and investing your money.

Teen Tycoons! Try this

www.saveandinvest.org/FinancialBasics/Teens

Personal finance info that works with teen spending styles and wants.

Kids who Care about their Cash! Try this www.treasurydirect.gov/kids/kids.htm

Fun, colorful games, videos and more on money and debt.

Financial Fun and Games! Try this

<http://financialentertainment.org/>

You'll have so much fun playing these addictive financial games, you'll forget you're learning valuable money lessons.