

Supporters of the Georgetown County Library visited Columbia on Library Legislative Day and met with Senators Ray Cleary and Yancy McGill, and Representatives Kevin Ryan and Carl Anderson. The Georgetown contingent brought information about the hundreds of programs the library puts on every year – and a plea that legislators support funding for books and technology.

To the right: Library director Dwight McInvaill presents Representative Kevin Ryan a library tote bag full to of information about library offerings.
