Noted Lowcountry Artist to Exhibit at Waccamaw Library

The Waccamaw Library will proudly display "Life, History and Roots of the Lowcountry," an exhibit of the work of Pat Puckett, during the month of September.

Pat Puckett has lived in the Lowcountry her entire life. Following a 23 year career in Interior Design, she has devoted her time to painting in oils, interpreting the natural beauty of the local landscapes with bold brushstrokes and rich color.

She is on the Culinary Symphony and Visual Arts Committees for the Pawleys Island Music and Arts Festival and has chaired the "Seaside Palette En Plein Air" event in Georgetown SC for the past two years. She is a member of the Seacoast Artist Guild, Charleston Artist Guild and the Studios of Key West.

Puckett lives in Georgetown, South Carolina and Key West, Florida, with her husband Bill.

"I am blessed to live in such a beautiful coastal setting surrounded by magnificent beauty," Puckett said. "It has given me countless subjects and inspiration for my paintings."
